Although the D.C.S. kite flying contest scheduled for last Sunday was canceled, five-year-old April Betty and her father stayed at the field to get some practice in for this coming week. April takes a moment to untangle herself from her kite's extra long tail. The contest has been rescheduled for this Sunday, May 4, at 1:30 at the Andover High School field—a change from its previous location in Shawsheen Village.

Abbot Campus Eyed As Executive Conference Center

By Susan K. O'Neill

Phillips Academy officials announced today that school trustees have given them the green light to investigate the possibility of leasing the school's Abbot Academy campus for development as an executive conference center.

"For more than a decade, the trustees have discussed how best to sustain the traditions of Abbot Academy and enhance the site which has, unfortunately, somewhat deteriorated," said Phillips Headmaster Donald McNemar. "Some time ago we engaged highly-regarded real estate consultants to investigate a variety of possible uses. Recently they have told us an executive conference center may well be the most appropriate."

McNemar said that the conference center alternative is not definite, but that the Academy's administration has been authorized by the trustees to explore the concept with interested developers.

"At this point we are very excited about the potential," he said. "But the only decision that has been made is to proceed in further investigating this potential use and seeing if there is an interest on the part of high-quality specialists in developing and managing the facility."

According to McNemar, the trustees have directed that any potential use of the Abbot campus, which became part of Phillips when the two schools merged in 1973, must meet the following restrictions: The land must remain in the ownership of the trustees; use must be consistent with the purposes and traditions of both Phillips and Abbot, and must be fitting to Andover, with minimal impact on town services; and primary consideration must be given to the natural features of the campus setting.

A conference center would fit within the restrictions, said McNemar. The project would not be designed as a hotel or convention center; rather, it would provide a campus-type retreat for small groups from corporations, universities and institutions to meet for three to five-day conferences and educational seminars. It would benefit the town financially by adding to tax revenues, while having minimal impact on traffic, services, and the lifestyles of neighboring residents and businesses.

Such a project would be expected to utilize "the majority of the traditional Abbot campus," said McNemar. That campus, which lies across Main Street from the main Phillips campus, includes a core comprising Abbot, McKeen and Draper halls, plus a gymnasium and buildings now used for faculty and student housing. Abbot Hall is now leased to the Northeast Document Center, McNemar said; a child-care center occupies part of Draper, and McKeen is empty.

Some of the buildings would require extensive renovation, he said; others might not be usable. If new buildings

World War I Veterans To Be Honored

The Andover Patriotic Holiday Committee is seeking names of all living World War I veterans presently residing in Andover or those veterans who entered the service from Andover.

The committee plans to honor these men on Memorial Day, May 26. If they are able to attend the parade and services, special cars will be provided for them to ride in during the parade.

The veterans or their relatives are urged to contact John Lewis, secretary of the committee, at the Andover Veterans Office or call 470-3800, ext. 329.

To Replace Flags On Graves Sunday

The Patriotic Holiday Committee, with the assistance of the local veteran organizations, will replace the American flag on the graves of all veterans interred in Andover cemeteries prior to Memorial Day.

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 2128 and the American Legion, Post #8 will meet at the veteran headquarters in the old East Junior High School on Sunday, May 4, at 11 a.m.

Rain date will be Sunday, May 18, at 11 a.m.

The assistance of all able bodied members of both posts is needed as there are more than 1,200 graves to honor with a new flag.

Ballardvale Cleanup Day Saturday

The BallardVale Village Improvement Society is sponsoring the second annual spring cleanup of Ballardvale on Saturday, May 3, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Community projects planned include painting, roofing, mowing, trash pickup and general maintenance. Everyone able to help will meet at the railroad station at 8 a.m. Coffee and donuts will be provided. Rain date is Sunday, May 4.

Rabies Clinic Location Changed

The second and final session of the town's annual Rabies vaccination clinic will be held Saturday, May 3, at Andover Animal Hospital, 233 Lowell St., instead of the Sanborn School cafeteria as previously announced.

Dogs and cats may be brought to the new location between 8:30 a.m. and 12 noon. Animals should be restrained by the use of leashes or carrying cases.

Kite Flying Contest Rescheduled

The Department of Community Services' fourth annual kite flying contest has been rescheduled for Sunday, May 4, at 1:30 p.m. on top of the hill at the high school.

Ribbons will be awarded for first and second place in the following categories: largest kite, smallest kite, longest tail on kite, best flying kite, best homemade kite, most attractive non-flying kite, kite with most original design.

All participants should arrive at least 15 minutes prior to the contest. The contest will be cancelled if weather is inclement.

The church of Monte Cassino in Kentucky is said to be the smallest church in the world. It accommodates only three people at a time.

Sponsors Bill On Nuclear Waste

Rep. Sue Tucker has co-sponsored legislation to establish a multi-state joint commission to deal with the New England siting of a federal repository for high level nuclear waste disposal.

According to Tucker, the fact that southern New Hampshire has been selected as a candidate for a nuclear waste dump cannot be ignored by legislators and officials in Massachusetts. "The social and economic impact of this siting decision will be enormous," she said. "Use of I-91 and I-93 to transport thousands of tons of the most dangerous waste generated in America will be unavoidable."

Tucker explained that the federal government is committed to finding a permanent burial site for military and nuclear power plant waste by 1990. This waste, some of it dangerous for thousands of years, is presently stored "temporarily n-site" at nuclear power plants and military bases all over the country. The Department of Energy has considered many methods of disposal, including launching it into space and burying it under the ocean. Because the current search is for a deep crystalline rock formation, it is not surprising that the Granite State has been chosen as a finalist.

Pulitzer Winner To Lecture

Business and education have joined hands to offer the public what neither can regularly offer alone; Exposure to star quality talent. Hewlett-Packard, Northern Essex Community College and Phillips Academy will co-sponsor an opportunity to hear one of the finest authors on cities, race, politics, journalism and forces beyond control, Pulitzer Prize-winner J. Anthony Lukas, on Friday, May 2, at 8 p.m. in George Washington Hall at Phillips Academy in Andover.

Lukas wrote "Common Ground: A Turbulent Decade in the Lives of Three American Families," a Pulitzer-Prize-winning book that captures Boston's post-Martin Luther King-assassination agonies. This book tells the personal experience of three very different class families and gives glimpses of Mayor White, Louise Day Hicks, Judge Garrity, Tom Winship of the Boston Globe and Cardinal Medeiros.

There are many kinds of insights to be gained from Lukas' speech entitled "In Search of Common Ground: Race and Class in America," views of poverty, politics, crime, public housing, the media and a school system that went from 65 percent white in 1974 to 28 percent in 1986, not all due to the desegregation issue. Columbia University's director of media studies, Everette Dennis, wrote in a letter to Tom Winship that "Tony Lukas brilliantly diagnosed," in his talk at their conference, "one of the major ills of the public trust equation for the mass media". . . was "intellectually stimulating and provocative". . . spoke with "force and style."

The lecture is open to the public without charge and is a model for future program sponsorships between the educational and private sectors. Call Mel Silberberg in the center for business and industry at Northern Essex Community College for further information.

Lukas went to high school in Putney, Vermont, graduated magna cum laude from Harvard in 1955 and took advantage of an Adenauer Fellowship to the Free University of Berlin, Germany, in 1955-56. He was stationed in Tokyo in 1957 and '58 as a news commentator for U.S. Army Psychological Warfare. He worked as a reporter for the Baltimore Sun and New York Times (1962-71) covering Washington, the U.N., Japan and Korea. His other books are "Nightmare: The Underside of the Nixon Years," Viking Press, 1976; "Don't Shoot—We Are Your Children!" Random House, 1971; "The Barnyard Epithet and Other Obsecenities: Notes on the Chicago Conspiracy Trial," Harper and Row, 1970.

Lectures, Conference End Series

Phillips Academy's 1986 Headmaster's Symposium concludes this week with three free public lectures as part of a conference and dialogue with representatives of the Soviet Peace Committee. Suzanne Massie will open the conference on Monday, May 5, at 11 a.m. in Cochran Chapel with a lecture entitled "Pavlovsk: Beauty Will Save the World." Soviet guests will speak on their purposes in coming to the United States and reasons for participating in the conference at 2 p.m. in White Auditorium in the basement of Evans Hall. Janet Vaillant will present a lecture entitled "Teaching Young People About the Soviet Union" on Tuesday, May 6, at 8:30 a.m. All lectures are free and open to the public; a few spaces remain for those who wish to participate in the full conference, which will include small discussion groups with the Soviets, for a small fee.

Massie, an expert on Soviet culture and affairs, serves as an unofficial advisor to President Reagan on Soviet relations and exchanges. She is author of "Land of the Firebird: The Beauty of Old Russia," as well as many other books and articles on Russian culture. Massie is a member of the Council on Foreign Affairs and serves as a visiting scholar at the Harvard Russian Research Center.

Vaillant co-authored "From Russia to USSR: A Text with Readings," the first comprehensive text of its kind on Soviet history for students at the high school level, with Jack Richards, chairman of the symposium committee at Phillips and an instructor in history. A professor of political science and government at many colleges and university, Vaillant is the associate director of the Soviet and East European Language and Area Center at Harvard.

The conference, entitled "USSR: Beyond Stereotypes Toward Understanding," represents the final event of the Phillips Symposium and is co-sponsored by Phillips Academy and US/USSR Bridges for Peace in Norwich, VT. It is designed as an opportunity for Americans and Soviets to meet one-on-one and discuss the similarities and differences between the countries.

The Northeast Document Conservation Center is a non-profit, regional conservation center, specializing in the treatment of library and archival materials in the collections of libraries, historical organizations and museums. NEDCC stands as a model of what can be accomplished on a cooperative basis and serves as a resource for cooperative programs in other regions.

NEDCC's field service program has demonstrated its ability to meet the needs of institutions in the northeast for preservation of information. The field service program provides on-site surveys of preservation needs, workshops and seminars, informal consultation and disaster assistance. Mildred O'Connell, field service director since 1980, has conducted more than 150 surveys of preservation needs of collection-holding institutions and presented approximately 100 workshops and seminars. Institutions that wish to apply or federally subsidized surveys should contact the center.

NEH funds will also be used to purchase microfilming equipment in order to expand the output of NEDCC's preservation microfilming service. Lack of microfilming capacity has been identified as a major impediment to preservation of research collections. NEDCC can expand its operation quickly and cost-effectively since it already has the staff expertise, space, a network of clients and reputation for performing high quality work. Veronic Colley Cunningham, director of microfilm and photoduplication services, is available to advise clients on planning microfilming projects.

For more information, contact NEDCC, 24 School St., Andover, MA 01810.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Dining out with your toddler will help him learn about the adult world, and with a little planning, it can be a pleasant experience for all. Toddlers whose parents take them out with them regularly learn what the outside world is like and how to behave there. They also learn to be less afraid of new people and placed than children who are usually left at home. Many good restaurants are doing their best to change American attitudes toward small children. In many countries parents of small children don't have the problem of dining out with their children. Most of the time, the infants and toddlers are well behaved. The most important thing is to remember and understand your youngster's needs and be willing to give him lots of attention.

You will find the furniture to suit your decor at TINY TOTLAND. We carry baby furniture by Simmons, Childcraft, Bassett & Morigeaux. Baby toys...everything from "heaven to seven". Open 9-5:30. Mon. & Th. 9-9. Free lay-a-way plan. Over 80 cribs are on display at TINY TOTLAND, 1111 Elm St., Manchester, N. H. 1-603-623-6171.

At Conference

Attends Washington Conference

Dorothy M. Winn, coordinator of Elder Affairs for the town of Andover, was among 3,000 practitioners in the field of aging throughout the United States who attended the 36th annual conference of the National Council on Aging in Washington, D.C.

The conference theme, "Taking Charge, Taking Care," illustrated through panels and workshops, plenary sessions and site visits how older people can work for their own and the community's good.

Cong. William H. Gray (Pa.) delivered the keynote address which emphasized the concept of empowering and enabling all older persons for life. According to Jack Ossosky, NCOA's executive director, the conference theme highlighted the diversity of American's older population: the young-old, old-old, well-to-do, poor, healthy, frail, those with personal support networks and those without them.

Four major aspects of the conference were industry and the aging workforce, mental health and aging, developing and financing senior housing and expanding educational opportunities for older adults.

Among the NCOA conference highlights were a trip to Capitol Hill with meetings of delegates and their elected representatives, a wellness center lab integrating exercise and nutrition into daily activities and a festival of the performing arts by older performers and musicians.

Special meetings were devoted to various NCOA constituent groups on senior centers, adult day care, employment, volunteerism, rural aging and community-based, long-term care.

Glass Drive In New Location

Andover's monthly glass drive on Saturday, May 17, will move from the old town hall parking lot, where it has been held every month since last June, to the new town hall parking lot on Bartlet Street right next to the park. This new location will provide easier access to the glass collection bin because the area is less congested by Saturday downtown traffic. Andover Recycling, Inc. volunteers will be available from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to help unload cars. A sign will be set up in the former glass drive area to notify uninformed recyclers of the change.

The monthly glass drive and curbside pickup of paper every other week are part of Andover's effort to reduce the town's solid waste stream. Solid waste disposal is an expensive and permanent problem in every community. Andover's faithful recycling supporters have clearly shown that they intend to participate actively in an economically and ecologically sound measure to control the waste disposal problem in the town.

Dana-Farber Receives Support From Raytheon

Raytheon Company has made a gift of $250,000 to the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute in support of its current $38 million capital development program.

The Raytheon grant was made "in recognition of Dana-Farber as a leading center in cancer research and the care and treatment of children and adults with cancer," according to Walter H. Palmer, director of public and community affairs for Raytheon.

The purpose of Dana-Farber's five-year capital development effort is to provide funds for endowment of professorships and fellowships, unrestricted endowment, new initiatives in basic and clinical research and the construction of new research facilities.

The Raytheon grant comes at the start of the corporate phase of the drive. "We strongly believe that for the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute to continue its outstanding work, Raytheon Company and other corporations should make significant contributions," Palmer said. "The Dana-Farber Cancer Institute has an international reputation. As a leader in the fight against cancer, the institute deserves support from the private sector."

Expressing the deep appreciation of Dana-Farber's board and staff, Richard A. Smith, chairman of the institute's capital development committee, said, "Raytheon has made a generous and significant commitment to our program. This is the type of corporate support we need to make our capital development program a success."

Smith noted that the Raytheon grant was given without restrictions to its use. He said the money can be used as matching funds on a one-to-three basis to help meet the $10 million challenge grant awarded to Dana-Farber in 1983 by the Charles A. Dana Foundation.

Raytheon Company, headquartered in Lexington, is a diversified, international technology based company active in electronics, aviation, appliances, energy services, construction and publishing. It is the state's largest employer, with some 31,000 of its more than 73,000 employees working in Massachusetts.

The Dana-Farber Cancer Institute is part of a national network of 20 federally designated comprehensive cancer centers. The institute conducts programs in basic and clinical cancer research, provides comprehensive treatment for children and adults with cancer, training and education for future cancer specialists and community outreach services in cancer control and prevention throughout the northern New England region. One of the institute's primary sources of private support is its Jimmy Fund.

DID YOU GROW UP IN AN ALCOHOLIC FAMILY?

It is a fact that children who grew up in alcoholic homes are also scarred by the effects of alcoholism. As adults, the children of alcoholics tend to have trouble with relationships involving trust and intimacy. They are often "people pleasers" who seek constant approval from others and strive unrealistically for perfection. Sometimes they become workaholics or even develop alcohol problems of their own.

On Monday, May 5, at 7:30 p.m., Harry Somers, M.Ed., C.A.G.S., an experienced alcohol and family therapist will discuss the lingering difficulties that many adult children of alcoholics face and also focus on the process of recovery through therapy and Alanon.

This seminar will be held at the offices of THE SOMERS TRUST/PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATES located at 789 Turnpike Street (Rte. 114), The Willows Professional Park in North, Andover, Massachusetts.

This seminar is FREE and open to the public. For more information or a make a reservation, please call 688-8004.

Raytheon Earnings Higher

Raytheon Company reported first quarter earnings 5.2 percent higher than a year ago. Sales were 12.7 percent above those of last year. Earnings per share rose 14.4 percent over last year.

In the first quarter, the diversified electronics company earned $92.3 million, or $1.19 per share, on sales of $1.725 billion. In the first quarter last year, Raytheon earned $87.8 million, or $1.04 per share, on sales of $1.530 billion.

The strong growth in sales continued in electronics, the company's largest business area. Defense electronic systems again led this advance. Higher sales were also recorded in energy services, principally by United Engineers & Constructors where work on the Seabrook power project is nearing completion, and in appliances.

Detracting from these gains were significantly lower sales at Beech Aircraft, reflecting the continuing recession within the general aviation industry.

Significant income gains in defense electronic systems were partially offset by depressed operating performances at Beech and Badger. Beech's performance was affected by the reduced level of aircraft sales while Badger's performance was impacted by increased costs on a construction contract nearing completion.

The company's funded backlog of U.S. Government orders stood at a record $5.922 billion compared with $4.968 billion at the end of March last year. Total backlog was a record $7.912 billion versus $7.013 billion last year.

Earnings per share are based on the average

Provision for federal and foreign income taxes in the first quarter as $59 million in 1986 and 58.6 million in 1985. The effective tax rate was 39 percent in 1986 versus 40 percent in 1985. Total employment at the end of March was 73,300.

number of shares outstanding during the period. In the first quarter this year, average shares outstanding were 77.8 million compared with 84.1 million in the same period last year. Raytheon purchased seven million shares of its stock during 1985.

Bank Notes Allocation Progresses

Andover Savings Bank has announced substantial progress toward completing the allocation of shares of its Common Stock among subscribers to its subscription offering.

The bank's subscription offering for 5,000,000 of its Common Stock to be issued in its conversion from mutual to stock form expired April 7, 1986.

The offering was over-subscribed and the bank is in the process of allocating available shares among subscribers in accordance with the Plan of Conversion. Subscribers will be notified by mail in approximately two weeks of the number of shares allocated to them.

Robert M. Henderson, president of Andover Savings Bank, stated, "We're very pleased with the substantial level of support for the bank demonstrated by the very enthusiastic response of depositors to our subscription offering. We're making every effort to complete the allocation of shares among subscribers as quickly as possible."

The bank is a Massachusetts-chartered mutual savings bank organized in 1834 and headquartered in Andover. Based on total assets of approximately $366 million at December 31, 1985, it is the 18th largest savings bank in Massachusetts.

Microform Services Expanded

The microfilm services at Northeast Document Conservation Center (NEDCC) Andover announces that it recently moved to a larger space in Abbot Hall and has added additional staff to increase its capacity. The expansion reflects an increase in demand for its microform and photographic copying services. The center plans to increase its staffing from three to six filmers to operate six planetary cameras.

The microfilm service is now located on the third floor of NEDCC's building in a room formerly used as the Abbot Academy Chapel. The new room provides an increase capacity of 50 percent. Lack of microfilming facility has been identified by libraries as a major impediment to a national preservation effort. As more librarians begin to undertake preservation programs, with emphasis on preserving information through microfilming, the need for new facilities has become acute. NEDCC seeks to respond to this need. NEDCC emphasizes high standards of filming as well as careful handling and preparation of deteriorating materials.

Funds for the purchase of new equipment have been provided by the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Mabel Pew Myrin Trust and the Polaroid Foundation.

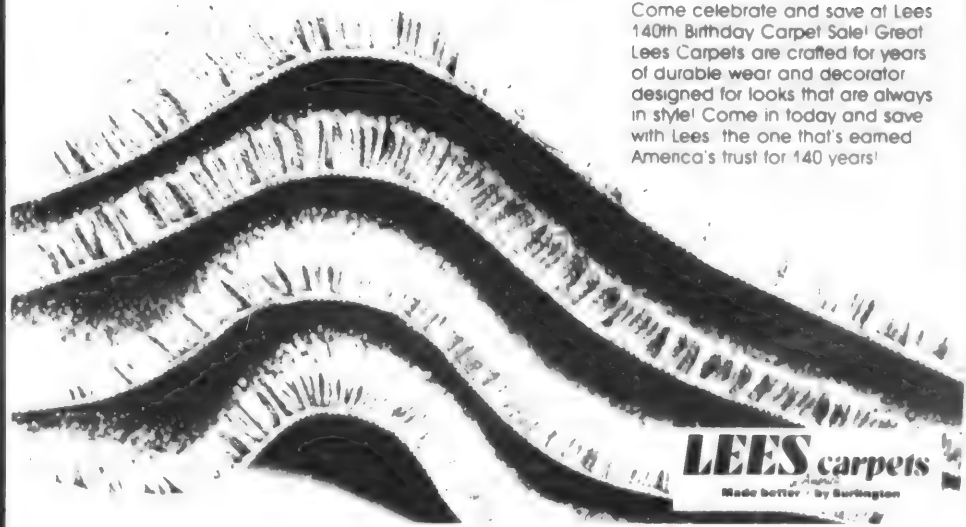

The increased capacity allows NEDCC to handle large projects such as the collections for Stanford and Brown Universities, both participants in the cooperative microfilming project of the Research Libraries Group (RLG), more easily. The National Endowment for the Humanities funded cooperative microfilming project was developed to step up the preservation efforts of RLG libraries and eliminate duplication in microfilming of scholarly subjects. Bibliographic information about preserved titles will be entered into the RLIN data base to enable all institutions with access to the computerized records to benefit from the participants preservation efforts.

NEDCC's microfilming service is also currently preserving the Margaret Borke-White collection of negatives from the George Arents Research Library for Special Collection at Syracuse University. This collection includes more than 18,000 negatives from practically every photographic job between 1930-1936. In addition to microfilming the entire collection, NEDCC's photoduplication services will also copy each negative onto safety film. The original negative will be sealed in small packets and placed in long-term cold storage, while the interpositive produced at NEDCC will serve as the permanent archival image. This will enable scholars and researchers to browse the collection while reducing handling of the originals.

The expansion of the microfilm services builds on NEDCC's extensive experience in producing preservation microfilm over the last seven years. In addition to producing and duplicating the microfilm, NEDCC offers long-term remote storage for microform masters under controlled environmental conditions and provides services for editorial and technical preparation of collections as well as educational programs. Veronica Colley Cunningham, director of microfilm and photoduplication services, is available to advise clients on selections and preparation of materials for filming, technical specifications for filming projects and costs of microfilming.

Junior Gardeners Conduct Arbor Day Program

The entire student body of South School participated in an Arbor Day program planned by the Andover Junior Garden Club in cooperation with South School Principal Jade Augur. The Andover Junior Garden Club, whose chairman is Mrs. Paul J. King, is part of the 58-year-old Andover Garden Club.

Sasha Alsop, a fourth grade member of the Junior Garden Club, gave the opening address and teachers assembled in front of the school.

Her brother, Peter, also a Junior Garden Club member, introduced each segment of the program.

Jeffrey Pincus, John Meli and Susan James, all second graders, delivered a brief history of Arbor Day. They were followed by classmates Mikey Solazzo, Jessica Derby, Shannon Lee, Jonathan Germain and Billy Ryan who read poems they had written for the celebration.

The fourth graders followed with a traditional

Arbor Day dance and song.

Joan Schwartz, horticulture chairman for the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, traced the 1872 origins of Arbor Day to S. Sterling Morton of Nebraska. As a member of the state board of agriculture, his efforts resulted in the planting of more than 1,000,000 trees and an observance of Arbor Day which has spread around the globe. She also spoke of the hundreds of elm trees which were planted in Boston in 1666 and the special significance of the "Liberty Elm."

The Andover Garden Club presented a dogwood tree, which has been planted in the school's atrium in memory of beloved second grade teacher Mrs. Dorothy Murphy. The children paused for silent meditation after the principal gave a brief address stressing, "It is fitting that we dedicate our new tree in her memory. Each year, as this lovely dogwood blooms, we will remember the beauty she brought to our lives."

The final portion of the event was the announcement by Mrs. Robert Lange, president of the Andover Garden Club, that each child in the school would be given a tulip tree to plant in a special area of his or her own yard. The distribution of 410 to an entire school body is thought to be unprecedented in the state, creating another "first" for the Andover Garden Club.

Mrs. Lange stressed that the fledgling trees would grow to a height of 90' and width of 40' with beautiful tulip-like flowers. She quoted a Chinese saying, "For life to be complete, you must plant a tree." The trees were accompanied with instructions for proper planting and nurturance.

Designs Dream Room For Show

A "dream room" by Andover-based interior designer Carole Kaplan will be among 22 specially-designed interiors displayed during Celebrations '86, a two-week showcase heralding the grand opening of the Boston Design Center in South Boston's Marine Industrial Park.

Kaplan's business, Two by Two Interior Design, is located at 348 N. Main St. In keeping with the theme, the room she will display at Celebrations '86 is dedicated to her daughter, Elizabeth's graduation. "My daughter's graduation gift is her wonderful new room," Kaplan explains. "In the hopes that she will want to come home often and invite a friend."

Admission to the display, which will be held at the Design Center and be open to the public from May 3 through 18, will benefit the American Cancer Society and the educational fund of the American Society of Interior Designers, of which Kaplan and other displaying participants are members.

Hildebrand - Tallman

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Hildebrand

Sarah Reid Tallman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Carter B. Tallman of Andover, and Robert Foss Hildebrand, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hildebrand of West Boxford, were married on April 19 at Andover's Christ Church.

The Rev. James Diamond, rector of Christ Church and the Rev. Norman Crook of West Boxford officiated at the 6 p.m. ceremony.

Elizabeth McCoy of Harrington, Maine, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kristin Tallman of Mineola, N.Y.; Melissa Hostetter, Andover; and Sherry Georgoulis of Nashua, N.H.

Charles Hildebrand of Salem, served as best man. Guests were seated by Peter Demirali of Astoria, N.Y.; Lewis McMurran of Berkeley, Ca.; Stephen Conway of Washington, D.C.; C. Bruce Tallman, Jr., and Gerald Tallman, both of Andover.

The church was decorated in lavender lilac, heather and white roses for the candlelight service. Organist Earl Miller provided the music.

The bride wore a blush pink silk gown with embroidered lace and pearls decorating the sleeves and bodice, and a chapel-length train. She carried a formal presentation bouquet of white lilac, lavender frusia, white roses, light blue iris and baby's breath.

Attendants wore dusty rose tea-length gowns with scoop necklines. The gowns featured long sleeves and dropped waists, and were set off by strings of pearls. Their bouquets, similar in style to the bride's, contained iris, lavender lilac, heather, pink tulips, pink roses and baby's breath.

Following a reception at the New England Aquarium in Boston, the couple left for a wedding trip to Portugal.

The bride is a graduate of Lake Forest College and holds a Masters degree from Boston University. She teaches junior high school science in Watertown.

The groom is a graduate of Georgetown University. He works as an investment broker for Homan's, McGraw & Trull.

The couple reside in Boston.

Vaudeville Comes To Clowntown

A touch of vaudeville, that action-packed brand of variety entertainment, is coming to Andover with performances by Mr. Slim's Old-Time Music and Vaudeville Revival during Clowntown on Saturday, May 18. Two shows, sponsored by the Andona Society, will be held in the Doherty Junior High School auditorium at 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from any member of Andona or at the door.

For more than a decade Mr. Slim (R.W. Bacon) and his wife, L.J. Newton, have toured the country with their highly-acclaimed theatrical panorama of music, song, dance and award-winning comedy juggling. The duo play and sing old-time jazz, ragtime and comedy songs on more than a dozen instruments, ranging from Mr. Slim's tenor banjos, resonator guitar, harmonicas and musical saw, to L.J.'s washboard, brushbox and funnyfiddle.

The team's much-touted comedy juggling has been featured in major variety shows, circuses, television and on tour with the musical comedy "The Riverboat Ragtime Revue." A featured offering is "The Legacy of W.C. Fields" which includes the expert manipulation of top hat, cane and cigar boxes.

Mr. Slim and L.J.'s album of ragtime, jazz and vaudeville favorites, entitled "A Panorama of Musical Americana," has sold steadily since its release in 1983 by Variety Records. Mr. Slim is also author of two advanced technical juggling books.

A graduate of Syracuse University, Mr. Slim worked as a journalist, editor and lithographer before embarking on a show business career. He toured widely as a solo performer until L.J. created her own opening with expert juggling. Also a graduate of Syracuse University, she added her mastery of a collection of traditional, home-made and improvised instruments.

Mr. Slim

Today, even after thousands of performances and over a decade of refinements, Mr. Slim and L.J. continually strive to improve their show as well as their skills. "Performing with flawless technique is a daily challenge," says Mr. Slim. "Yet we present timeless styles in an era when public tastes and moods can change almost daily. More important than technique is presenting our show with energy and immediacy for the contemporary audience."

West Parish Women Topic Of Slide Show

By Virginia Lopez Begg

The Andover Historical Society will present a narrated slide show entitled "West Parish Women in the Nineteenth Century," Sunday, May 4, at 2 p.m. Hosted by Frank and Bernice Haggerty, this event is open to everyone. There is a nominal admission charge; no charge to members.

The slide show deals with the lives of the women of the West Parish community from childhood through adulthood. It focuses on their role in that community and the organizations they formed from the founding of the church in 1826 through the next half century.

Women of the period were active in such organizations as the Lady's Seamen's Friend Society. This group performed much valuable charitable work and later became open to men.

Although at that time women made up the majority of members of the church, they were not permitted to govern the church in any way. So these organizations became an important outlet for women's energy and creativity.

The slide show is narrated by Joan Patrakis, who did much of the research as part of a long-term project, and Marsha Rooney, director/curator of the society. They were assisted by Doris Newton, Betty Forrie and Nonie Newell who played the parts of West Parish women Susannah Jackson, the daughter of the first minister, Mary Susan Cutler, who spoke at the church's 100th anniversary, and Sarah Merrill Wilson.

The records used in preparing the show are original documents belonging to West Parish Church and are now preserved at the Andover Historical Society.

All persons interested in local history, antiques, collectibles or support of local services are welcome to join the Andover Historical Society, a non-profit organization open to members and public. For information on open hours, exhibitions, tours, special events and membership, call the society office Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Dinner, Program To Mark Mission Week

Dr. Steve Duncan

South Church's Mission Week continues tomorrow night with a special African dinner and a program by the church's direct support missionaries to Angola, Steve and Marcia Duncan.

They are about to return to western Africa after a few months of home leave to set up a field hospital in Menongue, a city guarded by Cuban and Angolan forces in an area of fighting with rebel forces.

The Duncans work in Angola under the auspices of the African Evangelical Fellowship. They have been offered a complex of abandoned buildings in which to set up their medical center, though it is without electricity, windows, doors. They have spent much of their home leave collecting necessary equipment and supplies to pack in shipping containers and gathering expertise in the three areas of medicine Dr. Duncan will be particularly addressing: leprosy, tuberculosis and eye disease. "This is an opportunity to have a ministry. . .to present the gospel to these people," he says.

The dinner will begin at 6:30 and reservations may be made by calling the church office, 41 Central St.

Mission Week will conclude on Sunday at 10:30 Worship with a sermon by the Rev. Richard R. Broholm, director of the Center for Ministry of the Laity at Andover Newton Theological Seminary. He will speak on opportunities for doing mission in one's own workplace. The choir from the Haitian Missionary Baptist Church will perform special music and a luncheon with Mr. Broholm will follow.

The food drive for Neighbors in Need, sponsored by the ninth grade confirmation class, continues until Sunday. Baby food, rice, canned goods, powdered milk and pasta may be delivered to the church during the week or at Sunday worship.

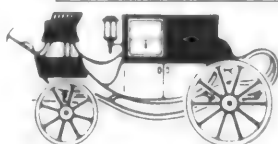

To freeze a frosted cake without marring the icing, freeze first without wrapping until firm. Then wrap carefully and return to freezer. To thaw, unwrap and let stand to room temperature.

Storytellers Featured Sunday

The First United Methodist Church, 57 Peters St. (intersection of Routes 114 and 133) will share worship with the "Lost and Found Storytellers." Founded by two Boston University School of Theology students, Elizabeth Davis and Linda Bandelier, the Lost and Found Storytellers, present a provocative and entertaining look at familiar and lesser known women of faith. Through original songs and stories, women and men are able to experience the bible as a living part of the own life-stories.

This unique ministry grew out of a project the two women created for a class at Boston University School of Theology. Since then, they have been invited to perform and lead workshops for churches and organizations around New England.

"We discovered that what started out as a creative class project addressed a deep hungering to hear the truths of our faith," said Linda. She and Elizabeth will graduate from the School of Theology in May with Masters of Divinity degrees. Both agree that storytelling will continue to be a major part of their ministries.

Mrs. Murphy, formerly of Lawrence, was a teacher at South School in Andover for 13 years.

A funeral Mass was celebrated Monday morning in Holy Trinity Church, Trinity Street, Lawrence.

Sadie Bashara

Sadie Bashara, the matriarch of Bishop's Restaurant, who worked for the past 40 years to make Bishop's Restaurant a dining institution in Lawrence and throughout the state, died April 24 at Bon Secours Hospital. She was 85.

Known affectionately by her children as "The Chief," Mrs. Bashara was still a driving force in the restaurant until last fall. She was hospitalized on April 11 and died of a stomach tumor.

In the beginning of the restaurant's existence nearly 40 years ago, Mrs. Bashara, a widow for the past 48 years and mother of seven children, cooked everything on the menu herself. Mrs. Bashara's specialties were tabooli, a Mideastern wheat salad and an Arabic ground lamb loaf with spices, called kibbee. Her select dishes were fed to everyone from mill workers to politicians (one of the most famous was a thin young man named John F. Kennedy, who was in the area to campaign for a seat as U.S. senator from Massachusetts) and the Boston Bruins.

In 1977, Mrs. Bashara and the four Bashara children, who began the restaurant with seats for 70 on Oak St., that grew to the current Bishop's that now serves 1,000 customers a day, were named Small Business Persons of the Year in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Bashara was born Sadie Peters in a small town called Dier El-Kamir, about 30 minutes from Beirut, Lebanon. In 1913, she immigrated to the U.S. She married Solomon Bashara, who ran a grocery store on Elm Street. He died in 1938, leaving her to raise their seven children.

Mrs. Bashara attended St. Anthony Church in Lawrence, and was a member of the Daughters of St. Anthony Church.

She lived at 21 Gaywood Circle, Methuen, with sons Charles, Abe, and Joseph, and daughter, Victoria Bashara. She also leaves three married daughters, Mrs. Joseph (Emily) Hatem, and Mrs. Mitry (Adele) Saba, both of Methuen, and Mrs. Joseph (Louise) Kattar of Andover; 10 grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

She is also survived by three sisters and a brother in Lebanon.

A Mass was celebrated Monday morning in St. Anthony Church in Lawrence. Burial followed in St. Anthony Cemetery in Methuen.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Sadie Bashara Scholarship and Health Care Trust, c/o Arlington Trust Co. Savings Department, P.O. Box 688, Lawrence, Mass., 01842.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Charles F. Dewhirst Funeral Home, 80 Broadway, Methuen.

He was an Army veteran of World War II, having served with an engineering battalion. He was born and educated in Andover and attended Christ Episcopal Church.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Barbara A. (Porter) Hanson; two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Brenda) Elder and Miss Donna L. Hanson, both of Andover; a brother, Joseph Hanson of Derry, N.H.; a sister, Mrs. Thomas (Rita) Webster of Epping, N.H.; one granddaughter and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 11 a.m. at Allen Funeral Home, 402 Broadway, Lawrence. Burial followed in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the North Andover Hospice Program or the American Cancer Society.

Byers Named Planner

Monday night, the Board of Selectmen unanimously approved the appointment of Carl J. Byers to the Andover Planning Board.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony appointed Byers to replace Margaret Bradshaw, who resigned last week after serving on the board for five years. He will serve a term ending in June of 1990.

The new appointee is no stranger to community service. In order to take the board position, Byers will be resigning his seat on the town Conservation Committee, which he has held since November of 1984. He will continue to serve in his present capacity as chairman of Andover's Fair Housing Committee and as one of three Andover representatives to the regional Fair Housing Commission for Merrimack Valley. He is also a member of the committee appointed to update the town's master plan.

Byers is a regional engineer for housing with the New England Regional Office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), headquartered in Boston. Previously, he served as a chief planner for HUD before federal funding changes abolished that position.

Women & Custody

If you are separated from your husband and are concerned that your husband may intend to fight you for custody of your children, you may be hesitant to date, socialize or pursue a career because you are afraid you will lose your children if you do. If you have been the primary caretaker of your children before or since the separation, the standard which a Court will apply to determine which parent shall be awarded custody — the best interest of the children — does not necessarily require you to make drastic changes in your life style or your career.

have to be built, he said, it would be understood that they would be designed to fit the character of the rest of the campus.

In the past, Phillips has considered a number of potential uses for the Abbot campus, including residential housing and a "life care" facility for senior citizens. More recently, the campus was cited as a possible home for a relocated Boston Conservatory of Music.

The potential Conservatory move, though highly publicized, never materialized. "Their trustees said that they have a strong preference to remain within the city of Boston," explained McNemar.

According to the Headmaster, Phillips has set no timetable on its latest possible project, although officials would like to find an interested developer and engage in planning and discussions with all involved parties, including officials and residents of the town, within the coming year. "It'll take some time," he said, "and we're only at the very beginning of it now."

Because it would be undertaken by a developer rather than the school, McNemar had no estimate of cost of the potential project.

Utility Permits Approved

On Monday night, the Board of Selectmen voted unanimously to grant permission to the Bay State Gas Company to excavate at a site across Old River Road for the installation of new gas service to the Koala Inn.

The board also approved connections for the sanitary sewer at the following sites: Sparta Way, in the Olympic II subdivision; Shattuck Road; Hammond Way.

A one-day beer license was granted to the March of Dimes, 89 N. Main St., for its annual 5K road race on June 6. The license will be used from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on the site of the former West Andover Community Association.

The board also authorized Town Manager Kenneth Mahony to execute the necessary contracts for project work in connection with the Mass. Historical Commission Preservation Projects Fund for the renovation of the Old Town Hall.

Finally, the selectmen approved the proclamation of Senior Center Week for May 11-17.

Industry, Business Combine Enhances Andover Education

By Lisa Waterman

The seat belt law and the use of math in electric engineering are some of the topics that are being brought into the classroom in a partnership between the business and education world to enhance the quality of education in the Andover Public Schools.

Representatives of the industry and business community have recently entered Andover classrooms in co-operation with the classroom teacher to teach modules to augment classroom learning with some hands-on experience, technology and exposure for the students into the worlds of modern industry and business.

Dr. Albert Belle Isle, founder and president of Custom Silicon, Inc., Lowell, a company that designs semi-conductors and deals with the applications of specific integrated circuit design, has been a dedicated member of the Andover Collaborative almost from the beginning of the project in 1981.

Belle Isle has recently completed what he considered to be the "first successful experiment" with an advanced calculus class at Andover High School.

The instructional module designed by Belle Isle and the advanced calculus instructor Bob Lawson focused on the use of calculus and computers to solve a realistic electrical engineering problem.

"We illustrated to the students how both calculus and computers could be used to solve a problem that involved how much voltage was necessary to trip a switch of a micro circuit," Dr. Belle Isle explained.

There are thousands of tiny switches in the average micro circuit which form micro chips from which the computer system is made, according to Dr. Belle Isle.

The students were taken through the step-by-step process of solving this problem, according to Andover High senior Mark Marmer, a student in the advanced calculus class who participated in the module.

"Data that was arrived at by using our calculus base was then taken to the computer lab and put on discs," Marmer said. "From this we made a graph that showed the voltage and found the number that would change the voltage. From this we used the computer to create an approximate conclusion to the problem."

This exercise exposed them to the way an engineer might use calculus and computers in a design decision, according to Belle Isle.

Dr. Belle Isle worked with Lawson to incorporate as many of the classroom concepts as possible into the practical problem at hand.

"We were hoping to expose them to the possible consequences of a course of action that might be taken by an engineer to solve a problem," Belle Isle said. "An engineer at a multi-million dollar micro chip firm can not spend his time creating thousands of micro chips to find which one will work." Belle Isle and Lawson hope to make a video tape of the instructional module to show to other students.

"The module really made me see how material learned in the classroom can be applicable in the world of business and industry," Marmer said.

After discussing the seat belt law, members of the Student Advisory Council and their teacher coaches at each of the elementary schools took on a collaborative project with A.T. & T. Bell Labs, Osgood Street, North Andover. Technical advice was provided by Tom Ciaccia, a supervisor for A.T. & T., working with Charlotte Lynch, a sixth grade teacher at West Elementary School.

The students surveyed a sample of residents in order to determine people's views regarding seat belts in the Andover community, according to Lynch.

Students interviewed about five persons each using questions designed on a survey sheet. The sixth grade students, acting as social scientists, asked questions that centered on age range, sex, children; they asked if the individual was a licensed driver and if they favored the seat belt law. They were asked their reasons for a positive or negative response and whether or not they wear seat belts now or wore them prior to the law.

"Once the survey is completed the students and teachers joined Ciaccia in learning how to use the PSF file Apple computer to enter data and draw conclusions from the samplings. It was a good way to incorporate the use of math and social studies. It also familiarized the students with graphs and charts," Lynch said.

The students will present their results to members of the Business/ Education Collaborative during their next meeting on Friday, May 9.

"I thought it was a really interesting project," Jennifer Ashlock, a sixth grade student at South School, said. "The results can be used to make a better law. One person told me it was unsafe to wear a seat belt; it made me consider that there are two sides of the question. I didn't realize you could do this with a computer. When you use a computer the graphs are neater and easier to follow."

Atlantic Microsystems Inc., an engineering firm and systems integrator located at 1 Elm Square, held a two-day seminar at West Junior High school last month to expose the students to industry. The da Vinci system, a high performance AT type microcomputer, was brought in to illustrate state-of-the-art drafting.

"You could hear a pin drop when we told the students, 'When you get out of school, this is the way drafting will be done,'" James Wilen, vice president of engineering, said.

A space shuttle illustration, drafted on the da Vinci system with multi-colored pen on a screen, which replaced the old draft paper and slide rule technique, was used to demonstrate the new drafting to students.

"Make believe the computer is a million layers of paper," the students were told.

Wilen says there is a dark side to the current classroom curriculum that is sometimes illustrated by such collaboratives. That is the fact that high school students are now being instructed in methods and using tools that will be long outdated when they are handed their diplomas on Lovely Field.

Celebrating 75 Historical Years

The Andover Historical Society celebrated their 75th anniversary gala last Sunday at the Lanam Club. Over 100 Historical Society members and their guests were treated to music, light buffet and an opportunity to share the celebration. Policy Is Needed

It would seem proper for the school administration to look carefully at establishing a policy regarding citizen involvement in fundraising and school projects.

The matter has been before the school committee recently, due mostly to the development of a playground at the Bancroft school. The area is being developed through pupil input with the architect, and will have further community involvement in construction and the obtaining of necessary funding for the project.

While this may be a very worthwhile activity, and, indeed, it will benefit the community in that particular area, it does raise some question concerning how much public involvement should be allowed within the school system.

There is, too, the question of equality of services throughout the town.

With no adverse reaction to the Bancroft project intended, the plan, its funding and construction certainly points to a need for some clear policy regarding future such proposals.

As suggested at a recent school committee meeting, there well could be parental concern about textbooks in use with the result that a fundraising effort would be dedicated to replacement of old or worn books or other materials.

A fundraising committee is currently working toward a goal of $40,000 for the Bancroft project.

Should other schools in town adopt similar projects, goals could well be set in that same financial vicinity and funds sought from private sources, more than likely local business people who already are hard hit for numerous worthy causes.

Too, children of the schools involved are invited to become part of the fundraising process, which places undue stress on both the youngster as well as the prospective donor. It is difficult to reject the plea of a youngster seeking financial assistance for his school project, and even more difficult for the younger ones to comprehend why there is sometimes rejection.

Supt. of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert has suggested that it would be helpful to try to clarify some of the policies regarding fundraising and School Committeeman Richard Neal wants a determination of the level of fundraising by private citizens for the schools.

Both suggestions should be pursued by the school committee with the administration as soon as possible in order to prevent the matter from getting out of hand.

The Bancroft proposal is basically a good one, getting, as it is, community involvement. But such things should have some controls which can easily be applied through formation of helpful policies.

The Knights of Columbus held their Open House April 27 after the 12:30 Mass. We were honored to have Fr. Rich, pastor of St. Augustine's, and Fr. Collins, pastor of St. Robert Bellarmine, and our own chaplain, Fr. Jim. Also State Deputy Edward Benait and his wife, Dorothy, and other state officials.

We were also honored with the presence of State Representative Sue Tucker, Town Manager Kenneth Mahony, Selectmen Mr. and Mrs. Donald Byrne, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesson and John Scileppi. Gerry Silverman was unable to attend due to a previous commitment. William Dalton was unable to attend, but he came down Saturday and took a tour of the building.

I want everyone to know the Knights of Columbus are dedicated to the youth and the retarded children of the town.

I want to thank the town officials again for attending our open house.

Please remember that our drive to raise money for the retarded children will be held on September 27.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — April 1911

A forty-fourth annual contest for the Means prizes at Phillips Academy was held Tuesday evening in the Stowe Chapel, and the prizes were as follows: $12 to George W. Washburn of Brockton and $18 to Oscar L. Shell of East Braintree. The essays delivered were very interesting and were on subjects much discussed. The object of the contest is to foster a greater interest in the writing of compositions. The prizes were first donated in 1867 by William G. Means of Boston.

Lawrence men are now in control of Salisbury beach. A deed was recorded Wednesday from the Salisbury Land and Improvement Company to Walter Coulson, James R. Simpson and Portal M. Black for the entire beach from the Merrimack river to the New Hampshire line, and also another deed from the Salisbury Beach Corp., to the same parties of the Hotel Cushing and Atlantic House.

Last Friday evening, Miss Eunice G. Stack was pleasantly surprised when a number of her schoolmates met her at her home and presented her with a gold locket and chain on which her initials were engraved for her birthday. During the evening games were played and refreshments were served. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

The Indian dancer, Miss Bee Mayes, of the Chippewa tribe, will dance and give folk songs with harp accompaniment at the Andover Guild, this evening at eight o'clock.

50 Years Ago — April 1936

Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas will be Andover's choice for president in November, if the pre-primaries held Tuesday are any indication. He polled 443 of the Republican 972 votes, Herbert Hoover placed second with 30.

The members of the Free Church will hold a 90th anniversary celebration of the church next Thursday evening.

Richard E. O'Brien, World War I veteran, has been appointed postmaster of Ballardvale by the President, it was announced Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Anderson of 100 Main St., will leave Sunday for Washington, Oregon and California, where they expect to stay for a year.

The Board of Public Works this week issued an order that all unpaid water bills, water service and sewer service bills will have to be paid before May 15. If not paid then, a constable will be asked to collect, and if the constable is unsuccessful, the water will be shut off. The action of the board came after receipt of the annual state audit which found the financial condition of the town excellent except for these old debts.

"I happen to talk their language and can fight," was the keynote remark of Robert Bushnell, former district attorney of Middlesex county and now prominent candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, in a talk in the town hall last Friday night.

25 Years Ago — April 1961

A vast effort to check speeding and other violations will be mounted by the police department. The use of a time clock, additional motorized patrols, and an unmarked cruiser cruising throughout the town are part of the effort.

The most controversial liquor licensing problem to face the Board of Selectmen since the adoption of the town manager charter comes to a head in the next two weeks. With the legal advertisement in the TOWNSMAN this week of 20 applications for one all alcoholic package store license, the long discussed issue actually becomes a reality.

The possibility that a truck parking ban will be extended to include "flagrant" violators was raised at the Selectmen's meeting on Monday night, even as the board sought additional methods to get clarification of a legal ruling. Town Manager Thomas E. Duff told the board he would recommend if a final decision is made in one case that a truck must not be parked in a residential zone, that some "flagrant violators" also be required to remove their vehicles.

The School Committee will consider returning to a 6-2-4 grade system. Board member William A. Doherty suggested that this possibility be thoroughly studied by the committee before any decisions are made on building needs for the secondary schools.

Most of us "died" last Friday night. But before that happened local Civil Defense personnel would have been confronted with several problems, resulting from the bombing attacks on area's around us. Friday's Civil Defense tests starting at noon with the "take cover" warning lasted until midnight, when the town theoretically fell within the destruction area of a bomb that struck Lawrence.

Michael D. Burbine, O.S.A. son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Burbine, 52 York St., will be ordained to the priesthood in the Augustinian Order, in his home parish of St. Augustine's on Saturday afternoon.

Andover's 1976 annual town meeting came to a close last Wednesday night with a surprise turn of events which saw the approval of funds for possible acquisition of Sacred Heart land in Shawsheen.

Grateful Mother Expresses Thanks To Andover's EMTs

By Susan K. O'Neill

Sandy Morrison remembers thinking that her son, Eddie Chateauf, didn't look well when she first saw him that Holy Thursday afternoon. The high school sophomore had had a cold for two days, she knew, but had seemed healthy when he'd left for school that morning.

Morrison knew that even a simple cold could pose dangers for Eddie; he is confined to a wheelchair with Muscular Dystrophy, a condition that weakens its victims' muscles, including those used for breathing. So, at about 5 p.m. that day, March 27, she helped him into his hospital-style bed at their Prospect Street home and assisted him with breathing exercises.

Then Morrison left the bedroom to get her son a drink. When she came back, he was unconscious. He had stopped breathing.

"I pulled him onto the floor and started mouth-to-mouth resuscitation," says Morrison, who works as a registered nurse at McLean Hospital in Belmont. "It's ironic—I'd just been recertified in CPR (cardio-pulmonary resuscitation)."

She worked feverishly on her son. At last, Eddie's eyelids fluttered and he regained consciousness—but he still couldn't breathe on his own.

Morrison pulled the phone down beside her; between breaths, she called the Andover Police and Fire emergency number.

Dispatcher Lynne Wheeler answered. "All I said to her is, 'This is a respiratory emergency,' and gave her my address," recalls Morrison.

After a short time—which seemed like an eternity to Morrison, who was still administering mouth-to-mouth resuscitation—she glanced up to see Fire Department Emergency Medical Technicians Larry Pierce and Jack Aiello enter the room.

"We got there as quickly as we could," says

Pierce. "She was very nervous; we had to work together. Her nervousness—because it was her kid—made it difficult at first."

Distraught with tension and exhausted by the effort of maintaining CPR, Morrison let the two rescue workers take over. Using a manual balloon-type device attached to a breathing mask, Pierce and Aiello continued to resuscitate Eddie as they and police officers who had responded to the call bundled the boy into the waiting ambulance.

Morrison climbed in back with her son and Pierce, and Aiello took the wheel. Sirens blaring, the ambulance sped down Prospect Street—and out into the bumper-to-bumper rush hour traffic of Route 125.

"There's an island on 125 that's big enough to drive a car down," says Aiello. "We had to use it. At the same time that I was driving, I called into the hospital to make sure they were ready."

In back, Pierce and Morrison continued working to keep Eddie alive during the drive to Lawrence General Hospital, which Aiello estimates took six to seven minutes.

Eddie made it. In the hospital's "Code Room," a section of the emergency room reserved for ambulance cases requiring immediate care, the medical staff inserted a tube into his lungs.

When his condition was stable, Eddie was transferred, first to Massachusetts General Hospital, then to Boston Floating Hospital, the pediatric unit of the Tufts New England Medical Center where he receives periodic treatment for his Muscular Dystrophy.

For more than three weeks, Eddie fought pneumonia at the Floating Hospital. He spent much of the time in intensive care; later, he was placed into an "iron lung" negative-pressure breathing machine so that he could be weaned from his tubes.

The battle, though long, was successful. On

Kitchen Design

ESTIMATING COSTS

How much should it cost to remodel a kitchen? Several rules of thumb generally are used. However, none might be applicable to your situation. Ask yourself how much you would pay for a new car or how much you paid for your last one. A new kitchen, according to many designers and contractors, often will cost the same amount. Other family budget advisors suggest spending approximately 10 percent of the value of the house for kitchen improvements.

Because so many possibilities exist, there is no accurate way of determining how much a family should spend. Everything from floor covering to windows may need to be purchased. In addition, the opportunity to insulate the exterior kitchen walls may be taken since the old cabinets will be torn out.

One way to rationalize the cost of a kitchen renovation is to decide if it is more economical to remodel or move. Now that that's settled come down to WINDSOR KITCHENS at 1101 Boston Rd., Ward Hill. We understand that you're working within a budget and we have the means to fit just about everyone's circumstances. Our showroom displays beautiful European, traditional and colonial cabinets. We can do small jobs or entire rooms. You'll live more comfortably and add to the value of your home. 9-10-5-30 Daily, Wed. 9-9; Sat. 10-3. Tel. 372-3444.

Tewksbury Overpowers Andover

The Golden Warriors varsity softball team let a 4-2 lead slip away, as the Redman tied the score later in the seventh and scored two runs to win it in the eighth 6-4. This loss makes coach Pat Thompson's tenth season team record 4-2, with 12 games left and veteran pitcher, Rubina Carver's record also 4-2. A young team, with only three returning veterans, Co-captains Rubina Carver and Laura Hayes and junior Sue Virog will play on the road for their next two games. The Warriors will be in Wilmington on the 2nd and Methuen on the 5th. Playing outstanding for Andover were Sue Virog who had three hits, including a triple, and three RBI's and Carver who stole two bases and scored twice. Photos clockwise from upper left: Second baseman Ann Marie Charland (left) and shortstop Lisa Fossella are unable to handle this throw as Tewksbury player slides in to steal second base; Senior Rubina Carver on the mound; Catcher Sue Virog (left) in conference with pitcher and other players; Right fielder Tricia Dziadosz leaps high to pull this high fly out of the sky for the out.

Spring Season Underway

The Pike School began its spring athletic season on Thursday, April 17, with one win and one loss. The winning opener was a girls' lacrosse game against Tower School in Marblehead. The game was a close and exciting contest which ended with a score of 11-10.

The boys' lacrosse team, led by captain Miguel Ezpeleta of Andover, lost their first game of the season against Tower School 3-6. The fairly inexperienced team is made up of boys from the sixth, seventh and eighth grade.

Pike's other two teams played their opening games on Friday, April 18. The baseball team lost to The Fenn School at home by a 10-1 score.

The tennis team won one match and lost the other six to

The Fenn School.

Legion Tryouts Set

Registration and tryouts for the 1986 edition of the Andover Post 8 American Legion baseball team will be held at Phillips Academy's varsity field on Saturday, May 10, 6 p.m. (raindate Sunday, May 11, 4:30 p.m.); Saturday, May 17, 5:30 p.m.; Sunday, May 18, 4:30 p.m.

The regular season is comprised of 20 games from June 12 through July 25 and will be supplemented with exhibition games against opponents from other districts.

In addition, Andover is entered in the first annual "Skip Morrisson" double elimination tournament at Lynn's Fraser Field during June 27-29 and July 3-6.

The tournament committee and organizers are pleased with the June 27 pairings which will feature two intense rivalry games between Lynn and Saugus at 6 p.m. and Andover and Lawrence at 8:30 p.m.

The tournament games will not count in determining the Zone 8 and Zone 8A champions.

The Andover Post 8 squad will again compete in the Zone 8 District which will feature the following teams competing in inter-zone play:

Zone 8, Beverly Lynn, Peabody, Revere, Salem, Saugus. Zone 8A, Andover, Haverhill, Lawrence, Methuen, North Andover.

Each zone champion will enter the state district playoffs at the end of the regular season.

Several of the 16 to 18 spaces on the team roster are open. Any Andover resident between the ages 16 and 18 (cannot attain 19th birthday prior to August 1, 1986) is invited to register and tryout.

Similar to last year, 16-year-old Andover residents have three options available to them: 1. play only for the legion team; 2. play only for one of the two Andover entries in the 13-16-year-old Pony League; 3. elect to tryout to be registered on both the legion roster and a Pony League team. These players will play and practice exclusively with the Pony League team, but would be available for legion play on an emergency basis.

Any candidate who cannot attend the legion tryouts should contact Manager Al Pelletier to allow for special tryouts.

Car Care

AAA says a thorough spring cleaning, inside and out, combined with some basic maintenance will help maintain your car's value and keep it in top operating condition. AAA's spring car care tonic includes:

Checking all fluid levels (oil, transmission, brake, windshield washer) and make sure your anti-freeze level is adequate to protect against summer boil-over. Check all belts and hoses; if belts are cracked or glazed or if hoses are mushy and show signs of leakage, replace them.

Review your car's maintenance schedule to see if it's time for a tune-up.

Give your car a good wash and complete waxing. Keep an eye out for scratches and rust spots and touch them up before they become major blemishes. Wash or vacuum floor mats, carpeting and upholstery.

Spring is a good time for a front-end alignment and an evaluation of your car's suspension system. Misalignment and worn shock absorbers can result in poor steering, excessive tire wear and an uncomfortable ride.

The Andover Junior Football League cheerleading program will begin its seventh season with registration on Saturday, May 3, at the West Junior High School foyer from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Boys and girls who will be 10 years old by September 1, up to and including those who will enter eighth grade in the fall are eligible. A birth certificate is required for new applicants. Sixty children will be accepted on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Junior cheerleading was started in the fall of 1980 as an addition to the Andover Junior Football League. Each squad cheers for one of the football teams; games are played on Sundays, beginning in late September, for six consecutive weeks.

Because of more favorable weather, cheerleaders practice through May and into the first part of June two evenings a week from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. There is a small registration fee. For more information, call Lynn Willey, 5 Wedgewood Drive.

Smoking Clinic

Pitching Paces Junior Warriors

By Dan Grams

Pitching was the key to success last week as the Andover High School Golden Warrior junior varsity baseball team won two of three games during spring vacation week. Backed by the superb pitching performances of Mike Klinger, Gerry Nassif and Mark Hashem, the junior Warriors raised their record to 4-1.

Andover 9 - Lowell 1

Lefthander Klinger made his first start of the young season a memorable one, coming within a whisker of throwing a no-hitter and going on to register a one-hitter. Rain shortened the game as Andover went on to defeat the Lowell Red Raiders 9-1.

Klinger fanned five while walking just one. Lowell's lone hit came in the first inning when shortstop Nassif made a diving stab of a grounder up the middle, but was unable to throw out Lowell's runner.

Rick Lafond led off in the second with a single and Hashem reached on an error. Nassif then drilled an opposite field triple to plate Lafond and Hashem. After a few Lowell fielding foulups, Andover responded with run-producing singles by Mark Tucker, Chris Concemi, Lafond and Hashem.

Andover picked up a pad run in the third as a Scott Wallace walk and sacrifices by Tim Smith and Tucker produced their ninth run.

Lafond had a pair of safeties while Tucker, Klinger, Concemi, Hashem and Nassif chipped in to the Warrior offensive attack.

Andover 13 - Chelmsford 7

The Golden Warriors came from behind to defeat Chelmsford 13-7.

They could do nothing right, yielding seven runs over the first four stanzas. Starter Barry Connors was roughed up for five runs over the first two innings, allowing just two hits, but his downfall was his wildness (three walks and three hit batsmen).

Righthander Nassif was called on, but Chelmsford picked up two singles before Mike Moriarty gave Andover a badly needed lift, gunning down a would-be Chelmsford run at the plate with a perfect throw from rightfield.

Andover picked up three tallies in the third and fourth. Doubles by Lafond and Nassif were the keys in the Warrior uprising.

Andover finally overtook Chelmsford in the fifth scoring six times. Back-to-back singles by Chris Onefur and Nassif, followed by a Wallace sacrifice set the stage for Andover's big inning. Four walks in a row, combined with a two-run single by Concemi gave Andover the 12-7 lead.

Nassif allowed just six hits while walking two and fanning four in five innings of relief to pick up the win.

Andover's final run came across on a Wallace RBI single. Nassif also led Andover at the plate collecting two hits, Lafond (3 RBIs), Concemi (3 RBIs), Tucker, Onefur and Wallace had the other hits.

Chris Patten stood out defensively, handling five chances flawlessly.

Methuen 3 - Andover 0

Andover never got untracked as they were blanked by the Methuen Rangers 3-0.

The loss was a bitter one for righthander Hashem who was the tough-luck loser. He permitted just five hits while issuing five free passing and striking out seven. Andover's ace allowed just one earned run, but hurt himself with a costly error.

Andover went in order over the first three innings, before Jeff McNeil's lead off single in the fourth broke the ice. He was left stranded, however.

Andover put runners on bases in the fifth and sixth, but their best scoring chance came in the seventh when Concemi singled and Chris Onefur walked, putting runners on first and second. This was as close to home plate Andover would get as Methuen retired the next three hitters 1-2-3.

Tucker starred defensively, handling seven chances, including a fine over-the-shoulder catch.

Surveys show that up to 90 percent of the tires on the road today are underinflated. This cuts into gas mileage by about 5 percent.

Island Hopping

Andover United 3 - Boxford (Essex) 3

Chris Poore put United ahead when he scored on a direct kick; Boxford tied it up following a defensive miscue. Barry Tucker beat the keeper on a header with assists by Chris Sapuppo and Chris Abell to give United the lead at the half-way mark. The competition came back with two questionable goals (possible offsides) and David Bartle headed in the equalizer on a perfect pass from Tucker to give United their third successive tie. BOW: Mark Neaves and Rajjiv Sheel.

Under 16 Division

Andover Whirlwinds 1

Andover Thunderbolts 0

The only goal of a scrappy contest between two Andover teams came early in the first half when Christina Loukatos kicked in a high shot over the keeper's outstretched hands. BOW: Liza DiClemente, Nicole Diamantas and Diane Bohaker.

Andover Strikers 2 - Beverly 1

Beverly scored in the first half to take a 1-0 lead at the halfway point. WJH scoring champ Shay Cassily kicked in the equalizer early in the second half on a pass from Sharon Petzold and subsequently scored the game-winner assisted by Mina Sheel and Kathleen Radulski. BOW: Micaela Corkery, Kerry Fitzpatrick and Kelley Hajj.

Under 14 Division

Andover Rowdies 3 - Lawrence 0

Steven Sintros set the tone when he beat the keeper early in the contest on a pass from Rick Bertetti. Jason Blandini upped the advantage in the second half (assist Bertetti and Dan Surdam) and Surdam closed out the scoring to give Andover a 3-0 victory. BOW: Keeper Jeff Grace who earned the shutout, Scott Shattuck and George Loukatos.

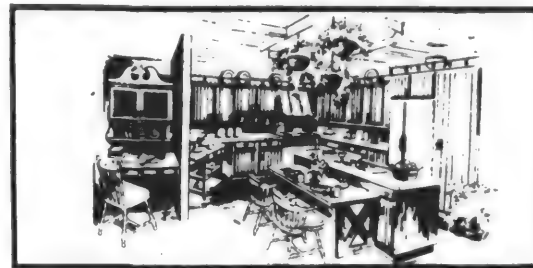

Andover Lightning 2

Billerica United (Middx) 0

A strong Billerica defense held the Lightning scoreless until there were three minutes left in the spirited contest when Brian Novelline beat the keeper on a perfect header on a pass by Mike Costello. One minute later, Mike Henry made it a 2-0 victory when he found the range on a pass by Jamie Damon. BOW: Ryan Cassily, Phil Meckel and Jeff Hamilton.

Andover Grabs State Relays

By Bob Manning

The Andover boys and girls track teams captured the Massachusetts State Coaches Relay meet for the second consecutive year. This Class A event was hosted in Andover and consisted of 25 schools from eastern Massachusetts.

The girls rolled to an easy win with 74 total points. The next closest team was Cambridge Ring and Latin with 52 points.

The boys, however, had a much tougher time. They did not win a single event, but due to the expanded scoring system, compiled enough points to edge St. John's Prep 55-53.

The girls won four events and set the meet record in the triple jump. Record setters were Kelly Abercrombie, Nicole Demasso and Julia Carpenter. The girls also had two second places, two thirds, a fourth and a fifth. The boys had three second places, four thirds and a fourth, fifth and sixth.

On Right Track

By Bob Manning

The Andover boys and girls track teams took decisive victories over Lowell this past Wednesday. Final scores were 120.5 boys, 89.47 girls. The boys swept five events and took first and second in several others. The girls swept two events, but strong performances by Kelly Abercrombie, Karen Hodgekinson and Nicole DeMasso sparked the win. The Perry brothers, Jamey Clarke, Mike Mooney and John Lecompte scored big for the boys.

The boys competed in the Haverhill Invitational on Saturday. The 4x220 relay team of Devon Arsenault, Scott Brink, Steve Redgate and Lecompte took a 10-point win. The 4x440 relay team of Nick Lembo, Gary Ziegler, Jon Yezerski and Dave Doyle grabbed a second place worth eight points. The shuttle relay took third, the 4x110 relay finished fourth and the 4x880 nabbed a fifth. The boys came up 2½ points short despite a valiant effort from the whole team. Yezerski won the mile, John Perry won the long jump, Doyle finished second in the half mile, Tim Perry, Lecompte and Bill Dalton, all had thirds, Mike Hogg had a fourth, Gary Ziegler and Steve Redgate had fifths and Mike Mooney, Arsenault and Bob Manning all had sixths.

Reading won the meet of 35 teams with 89 points, Andover had 86½.

Feldman Attends Conclave

William Feldman of William's Andover's Quality Jeweler attended the 1986 American Gem Society (AGS) Conclave in Boston April 24-29.

The American Gem Society, a professional organization of jewelers in the United States and Canada, sponsors an annual educational convention for its members. Jewelers learn about the latest industry developments, hone their gemological expertise and gain other important information during the intense, five-day program. Sessions on appraisals, diamond and colored stone grading, pearls and detecting gemstone treatments were included in the program. Business and marketing courses were also offered.

The 52-year-old society has provided more than half a century of dedication to improving and advancing gemological education in the jewelry industry and providing consumer information to the public. Before the American Gem Society was founded in 1934, there was no organized gemological study in the United States.

Every AGS member jeweler must pass an annual re-registration examination based on subjects covered at the conclave to renew membership in the society.

Emphasis is placed on the basic elements of drawing which are then utilized in a variety of media including batik, collage, acrylic, clay work, charcoal and markers. Examples of work in these media will be in this special showing.

A reception for the young artists will kick-off the show Saturday, May 3, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the bookshop

Hospital Receives Energy Grant

Lawrence General Hospital has received an $80,000 matching grant from the Department of Energy under Title III of the National Energy Conservation and Policy Act.

"This latest award brings the hospital's total grant money received from the Department of Energy for energy conservation measures to $247,825," says Harold F. Shea, vice president for support services.

The money from the current grant will pay 50 percent of the cost of several projects that will provide a more comfortable environment within the hospital for patients and staff. Lawrence General Hospital will provide the money for the other half of the $160,000 total cost of these projects.

Some of the projects include upgrading air conditioning and ventilating systems, installing state-of-the-art controls for air conditioning, heating and ventilation, and retrofitting a number of major air-handling units.

Forbes Rockwell, LGH energy consultant, and Williams Meins, director of engineering, developed the grant proposal and determined the areas that would produce the highest level of savings.

"Since its inception in 1977, our continuing energy management program has saved Lawrence General Hospital over $1 million," explains Rockwell. "Last year alone, we saved 198,200 gallons of oil over what we used in 1977, after factoring in corrections for weather."

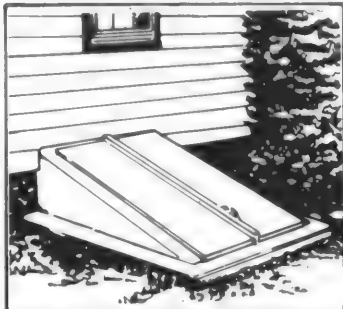

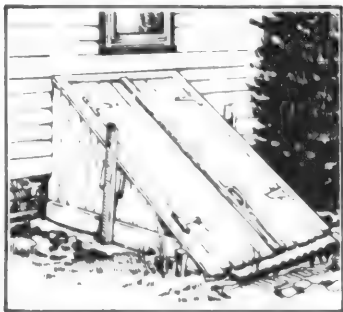

Craft Fest Planned

The dates for the Annual Ballardvale Craft Festival have been set for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 24-25. The event is sponsored and held at Ballard Vale United Church, 23 Clark Road, between Friday at 4 p.m. and Saturday at 3 p.m.

Sales and earnings of The Gillette Company rose above the level of the first quarter 1985, Colman M. Mockler, Jr., chairman and chief executive officer, told the annual meeting of stockholders recently.

Sales for the three months ended March 31, 1986, were $655.2 million, an increase of 17 percent from $557.6 million in 1985. Profit from operations was $106 million, up 15 percent from $92 million a year earlier. Pretax income was $77.6 million, compared with $67.4 million increased 16 percent from $38.8 million in 1985. Earnings per share of $1.45 compared with $1.26 the prior year. First quarter results are not necessarily indicative of those for the full year.

Sales and operating profits of Gillette North America were higher than the corresponding quarter of 1985. Gillette International's sales rose sharply and profits were well above the level of the year earlier. Diversified operations, which includes Braun, Oral-B Laboratories, Jafra Cosmetics and S.T. Dupont, had sharply higher sales and operating profits compared with the first quarter of last year.

Net interest expense, net exchange losses and the effective tax rate were lower in the quarter compared with last year's first quarter.

"Looking ahead to the balance of 1986," Mockler said, "the company has established a solid base to deal with negative economic factors that might emerge and is in a strong position to take advantage of favorable economic trends."

Stockholders voted to increase the authorized common stock to 145,000 shares of $1 per value, from the present 72,500,000 shares and to increase the 2,500,000 shares of authorized preferred stock, without par value, to 5,000,000 shares. Accordingly, as previously authorized by the board of directors, the 100 percent common stock dividend to holders of record May 1, 1986, having the effect of a two-for-one split, became effective. Certificates for the new shares will be mailed to stockholders May 23, 1986.

The board of directors has established a quarterly dividend rate of 34 cents per share on the newly split shares. The new annual rate of $1.36 per share is equivalent to $2.72 before the split, an increase of 4.6 percent compared with the former rate of $2.60. The dividend is payable June 5, 1986, to stockholders of record May 1, 1986.

Stockholders also approved an amendment of the company's Certificate of Incorporation to provide for a classified board of directors.

Americans write half a million letters to Congress every day.

Consider this special Audi.
But don't take too long.

100 YEARS COMMEMORATIVE DESIGN

To mark the centennial of the German automobile, we have commissioned a special model of the Audi 4000S sedan.

The Commemorative Design Audi 4000S sedan is a fitting tribute to this occasion. Alcantara suede sport seats with leather bolsters, AM/FM stereo cassette, power sunroof, and many other distinctive appointments complement the 4000CS' already substantial list of standard features.

A limited number of the Commemorative Design models have been produced. Each one has a century of engineering advancements behind it, but far less time is available for a test drive.

The Commemorative Design Audi 4000CS sedan. Consider one before it, too, becomes history.

The art of engineering.

Receives Journalism Honors

Andover resident David E. Young and the staff of the Boston Globe were the second-place winners in the Edward J. Meeman Award for environmental journalism at the Scripps Howard Foundation National Journalism Awards Wednesday, April 2, in Cincinnati.

Young, special sections editor, and 20 other staff members were honored for "Changing Tides—The Future of Boston Harbor," a 46-page supplement which presented a thorough look at the past, present and future of Boston's historical waterway. Young is a graduate of Boston University.

More than 400 print and broadcast journalists and civic leaders attended the ceremony, which presented $33,000 in cash prizes honoring the work of 12 newspapers, four television stations and four radio stations.

The Scripps Howard Foundation National Journalism Awards were established to improve the quality of journalism and recognize the service performed by newspapers and radio and television stations in their respective communities.

The Scripps Howard Foundation, dedicated to the advancement of journalism through education, was established in 1962 by Scrips Howard, one of the nation's largest media communications companies with interests in newspaper publishing, broadcasting, cable television, media services, publications and other media-related fields.

April 21, Eddie came home; this Monday, he returned to classes at the high school, where he is an honor student.

Sandy Morrison has high praise for the town's emergency staff. "Thank goodness for the dispatcher, the Police and Fire Departments and the EMTs," she says. "So often, people don't realize what they do. I've tried so many times to write a letter thanking them—but every time, I've been so overwhelmed with what would have happened if they hadn't come. I don't think I could have kept at it much longer."

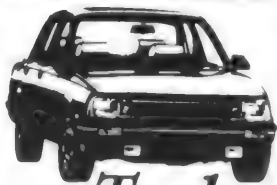

More specifically, Morrison is grateful for the steadiness of Pierce and Aiello. "They were great," she says. "They never lost their cool. They deserve a real vote of thanks—although they'll probably just say, 'we were only doing our jobs.'"

Pierce and Aiello are two of 13 specially-trained EMTs on the Andover Fire Department's 60-member staff. They both joined the force three and one-half years ago as firefighters; the department paid for their medical training at Northern Essex Community College. "It's a requirement in Andover," explains Aiello. "The 12 junior members of the department have to be EMTs."

Aiello estimates that the ambulance corps receives an average of five calls per day, the majority of which do not involve life-or-death situations. In Eddie's case, he says—as predicted: "We were just doing our job."

Pierce adds that he and his partner appreciated hearing from Morrison about her son's release from the hospital. "It's nice to hear back from the people you've treated," he says. "A lot of times, you never do hear what happens to them."

Foils Record Talking About Visit

The Board of Selectmen were well on their way to breaking their own 12-minute record for all-time shortest meeting on Monday night, until selectman Gerry Silverman launched into a "liaison report" about his recent visit to Andover, England.

Silverman's account of doings in the small English "sister town" added a note of interest—and 14 extra minutes—to an otherwise lackluster meeting. "I had heard before it was simply a place to drive through," he said of the town. "I found out it was much bigger than that."

It seems, according to Silverman, that the two Andovers have much in common. For example, each boasts a varied central business district containing many small shops. Each must balance heavy traffic with relatively narrow streets.

And each has its parking problems.

In describing his visit with Andover (England) future mayor Brian Beggs—who came to Andover (Mass.) last year—Silverman pulled a small, square, white ticket from his jacket pocket. It was, he explained, a parking ticket—not one of the "violation" variety, but one which permitted parking for one hour in the heart of England's Andover.

Silverman had obtained the ticket from a machine in the parking lot near the Andover (England) town hall—which, incidentally, had been recently renovated. He had had to display it in his car, he said, to avoid being ticketed (the "violation" variety) for illegal parking.

Because his tour of the town hall—which, unlike Andover's (Mass.), was of post World War II vintage—went beyond the hour limit, Silverman's host had to track down his town's equivalent of the meterman to save him from a fine.

On the whole, said Silverman, conditions in England seemed designed to discourage driving. Even so, it was easy to locate parking areas in the towns, including Andover, because small directional signs were posted at the edges of towns. He suggested that such signs might be of use here.

Silverman also said that officials in the little English town were considering turning their commercial downtown into a "mall" because of the narrowness of the streets that serve it.

The town seal of Andover (Mass.), given to Beggs on his American visit, hangs in its "sister town's" council chamber, Silverman informed his sparse audience. That chamber in itself emphasized the differences between English and American town governments; it was big, befitting the council's 44 members.

Peg Gorham (R) helps Michele Ryan and her daughter Stephanie choose a decorator fabric
Gorham Decorating Center: More Than the Sum of its Products

The counters are heaped with wallpaper books; curtain and bedspread samples lie in piles on the desk. The walls are lined with displays and paint charts.

Without a doubt, Gorham Decorating Center is filled with products and samples. Racks of them. Desks full of them.

You could go to Gorham for wallpaper or window treatments or bedspread fabrics. Many people do. But products are only a part of what Gorham is about.

"Over the last four or five years, I see us shaping into more than a place where people buy wallpaper," says Peg Gorham, the heart and soul of the decorating center. "We are becoming, rightly, more and more of a decorating shop. There's a lot of personal service involved here. We help people design a color system that's special for them—one that fits their personality and the personality of the house."

Gorham and her assistant, Sally Giantris, provide ideas. In an area where people pay high prices for homes that can seem distressingly similar to the house next door, they help translate an individual's tastes into a coordinated decorating scheme that is unique.

Using her talent for color and pattern co-ordination, Gorham can, after personally surveying the area, pull a room together—or decorate an entire house. She can offer imaginative touches—a custom-built fabric screen; a padded, upholstered head for a bed; canopies and curtains and unique window treatments; even a stencilled border.

All manner of home decorating products can be found at Gorham; you could just go there to buy them, period. But the point is, since you're going, why not take advantage of a resource that could make the difference between painting and papering your home—and stylizing it?

Furthermore, Gorham's expertise is free to those who use Gorham Decorating Center's products.

To contact Peg or Sally at Gorham Decorating Center, 581 Chickering Road, N. Andover, just call 685-4870. Or come in M-F 8-6, Sat 8-5.

You'll be pleasantly surprised at what a little good advice can do for all those products.

Tom Barenboim stands behind the 1986 LeBaron GTS
Clark Chrysler-Plymouth: a Local Tradition of Excellence

The car is the first thing you notice: a deep red, it almost winks at you from behind Clark Chrysler-Plymouth's Union Street showroom window.

A sports car? But there is, you can see, passenger space fitted neatly into those sleek sports car lines.

Intrigued, you walk in to check out the Chrysler LeBaron GTS.

Up close, the GTS is even more appealing. Clever, you think, the way it hides utility beneath the luxury and styling of a world-class sport sedan. Liftback storage; generous head-and-leg-room; space for five adults.

You note the sticker; not bad. You test-drive the GTS. No disappointment here; it drives and handles like the high-tech gem it appears to be.

You're sold.

It's not hard to lose your heart to a GTS—or any of Chrysler's solid, classy, American-made driving machines. After all, Chrysler is known for its tradition of excellence.

Still, no car can be better than the dealership that sells it. Which brings you to that aspect of Clark Chrysler Plymouth that you don't see through the showroom window.

Simply put, Clark has its own tradition of excellence. Unlike that of Chrysler itself, it's a very local tradition.

As Tom Barenboim, president of Clark Chrysler-Plymouth, explains: "We offer our customers a dealership that has proven satisfaction for three generations — a business in their own community, which shows a concern for the customer who, after all, is a neighbor as well."

Clark's is a tradition of quality and accessibility at prices comparable to those of larger dealerships. It's a tradition of service that has received national recognition for excellence.

For 36 years, Clark has maintained a full-service dealership—sales, service, parts, a body shop, leasing, rentals. They know what they're doing; ask their customers.

They'll tell you that there's no better place to buy that GTS. Clark Chrysler-Plymouth, 273 S. Union St., Lawrence, is open 8 a.m.-9 p.m. M-F; 8-5 Sat. Phone 688-6053.

NO DOWN PAYMENT

Did you know that it is sometimes possible to finance the purchase of a house or other real estate without a downpayment?

Generally banks and other lending institutions will not loan the full purchase price for real estate. Depending on the type of property, the credit record of the borrower, and the bank's own policies, the maximum amount of the loan can range anywhere from 75% to 90% of the total purchase price. The balance is usually paid by the buyer, directly to the seller, as a down payment.

If, however, the seller is willing to take payments to get the rest of the selling price, rather than receive it in one lump sum, the sale can be made without the buyer having to pay a lump sum down payment at the closing. In this case, the seller takes a second mortgage to secure the debt, with the bank holding the first mortgage.

This is just one method of "creative financing". Your real estate professional can show you many others.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Ponchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5108. We're here to help.

Introducing the Hawkswood Estate at Point Shore:

For those with a dream, and about $350,000 to spend for it.

When finished, there will be just 18 units here on this magnificent 10-acre peninsula overlooking the steep banks and broad flow of one of New England's great rivers.

Quite emphatically, these dwellings are not the typical "condo," the smallish place one settles for when his "real" home becomes too much of a bother. No, these are spacious 2,500 to 3,500 square foot units—elegant, spacious, secure, and private.

Very, very private.

You may look upon Hawkswood as a vacation home that you're fortunate enough to live in permanently.

Or as one of the last remaining gracious, environmentally responsible havens within the North Shore, yet only minutes from downtown Newburyport.

Or as a moderately expensive inducement to get the children to visit.

At any rate, if you're prepared to fulfill a slightly immodest dream, we should be happy to show you this splendid concept.

For an appointment to view the few remaining luxury residences phone our marketing director, Debra Tomaszewski, at (617) 388-1104 or view daily from 10:00-4:00 pm; weekends 10:00-6:00 pm.

Schrander Real Estate

HELP FOR HOUSE HUNTERS

Finding a good Realtor that you like and trust is the first step in finding your new home.

You can call or stop by a company in your area. Ask to talk to the manager, and explain what type of home you're looking for. He or she can then refer you to an agent who knows that market very well and with whom you could work comfortably. You might also use weekend open houses as a chance to look for an agent as well as a new home. It's really a matter of chemistry! If you meet someone you like and who seems knowledgeable, call him back.

Once you establish a good working relationship with a Realtor, he can show you almost all of the homes for sale in the area where you want to purchase, even if they're listed with other companies or for sale by owner. He will be able to show you a property as soon as it is placed on the market (many of the best homes never even make it to the Sunday classified section of the newspaper).

If there's a move in your future, call the professionals at Realty USA, Schrander Real Estate. Our number is 685-5000 or just drop by our office at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover. We're happy to serve all your real estate needs.

WHY YOU SHOULD LIST YOUR HOUSE WITH HERITAGE

1.) We advertise YOUR house (not someone else's house) every Sunday in the Boston Globe until it is sold.

2.) We spend as much as necessary to sell your house. We do not stick to an advertising budget in order to maintain a higher profit margin.

3.) We conduct open houses upon request. We have a large and willing staff of realtors for personal service. We never infer the futility of selling your house at an open house.

4.) Our rates are competitive; and you get more service for your money.

Planners Look Askance At Spencer Court Development

At a Planning Board meeting on April 22, resubmitted preliminary plans for a subdivision to be located off High Plain Road met with a veritable deja vu of skepticism, board members and abutters indicated that they were still not pleased with the land's drainage and septic tank placement problems.

The plans for Spencer Court, a 12-lot cluster subdivision, had been presented at an earlier meeting; leery of potential drainage problems they felt were inherent in its location, the board had sent its developers back for more comprehensive "deep hole" water table testing.

After a presentation of the plans, in which engineer Sebastian Ferrante of Dana Perkins Associates informed the board that newer tests had revealed tables ranging from two to 11 feet, board members still viewed the potential subdivision with distaste.

Said Chairman Margaret Bradshaw, who had turned in her resignation from the board earlier the same day, "I can say this because this is my last meeting with the Planning Board: This stinks!" The developers were testing a wet area in a dry year, she said; they would have to fill in extensively in order to install septic systems.

Ferrante disputed the allegation that this year was unusually dry.

At that, several abutters jumped into the fray. "I've lived there for 12 years," said one, "and this is the first time I've seen it (land in the area of the proposed subdivision) dry."

Another traced an underground stream, which Ferrante had said he had been unable to locate on the plans.

Another asked what recourse abutters would have in the case of septic system problems in the new development that might affect their lands.

Reminding the residents that this meeting was strictly a discussion of preliminary plans, Bradshaw explained, "At this stage, the board tries to give the developer its best feeling on what we want to see." Specific problems will be discussed when the plans are in the definitive stage, she said.

At the end of the discussion, Principal Planner Nancy Jeton suggested that the developer consider including a pathway to the nearby West Elementary School in his plan before resubmitting them in definitive form.

At the meeting, the board also:

- approved preliminary subdivision

plans for Great Heron Place, a three-lot subdivision planned for a location off Orchard Street;

- tabled the releasing of bonds on roads accepted as public ways at this year's Town Meeting. The question will be reconsidered at the board's next meeting. The board split its vote (2-2) on a motion by Paul Curley to send residents of the affected roads notification of the pending release; the tabling of the issue will allow it to be considered by Donald Ellsworth, who was absent from the meeting.

- granted the owner of the planned Colonial Hill subdivision a permit to store approximately 7000 yards of ledge material, the result of extensive blasting, on site, subject to the location of planned stockpiles on a map of the area, and to plans for the ultimate removal or crushing of the material.

Good Planning Makes Boat Buying A Breeze

Whether you're a first-time boat buyer or you're thinking of trading your boat for a different one, these tips may help you decide if a "good deal" on a boat is a good deal for you.

Before buying, it's a good idea to think in terms of annual costs and amortized costs. For instance, if you purchase a $6,500 boat and you own it for seven years, you'll spend a total annual cost of $928.57. On the other hand, if you purchase a boat for $8,000 and it lasts for 10 years, your total annual cost just for owning the boat will be $800, $128.57 less per year. It's also wise to investigate depreciation rates on various boats, which can vary as much as 10 percent. This will determine how much equity you'll have in your boat or its resale value.

Shop for the type of boat that will meet all your boating needs: fishing, skiing, cruising or a combination of all three.

Many boat manufacturers offer boats with great versatility. Starcraft's Super Sport/Super Fisherman boats are 16 and 18-foot long and are built on a modified-V runabout hull. This line also has features specific fishing features with a floorplan for the pleasure boater.

If you'll be trailering your boat often, you'll want a boat that's lightweight and easy to tow. Make sure you know what the dealer means when he quotes boat weight. Does it include the motor (an inboard/outboard can sometimes add another 1,000 pounds) battery and gasoline?

To determine the proper size boat trailer (plus motor, battery and gasoline), check the trailer's rated gross vehicle weight. Trailers are also sold with or without brakes. A heavy load may require extra braking power.

There are important construction components to look for in a boat. In aluminum boats, quality items include welded seams or double-riveted seams with sealant tape and stainless steel fasteners.

For a fiberglass model, make sure it is constructed with a stringer system (structural supports under the floor, similar to the frame of a car). Without this stringer system, the handling and durability of the boat may be compromised.

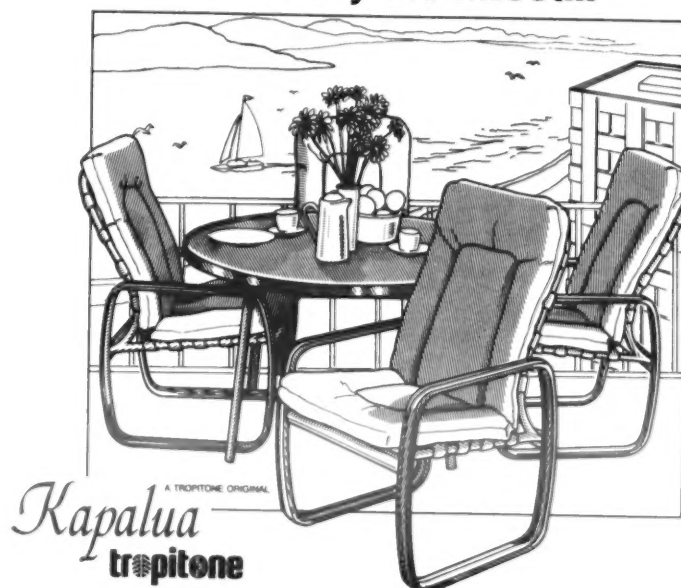

Does the manufacturer have dealers who provide warranty service? This is of prime consideration. If you need warranty service, you'll want it to be available and convenient to your location.

Also, check the on-water performance efficiency of fiberglass and aluminum boats. Look for stability, maneuverability, smoothness of ride, comfort and versatile seating.

Pert Lowell, Co., Inc. CLASSICS

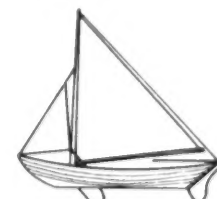

We build boats the way we've built them since the late 1700's: with meticulous craftsmanship and the finest materials. We take pride in our work, so that our customers will, too. Do send for our brochure. Better yet, come on by.

Town Class[™]. We launched the first Townie in 1932 - and built 2,000 more since. One reason this 16½' lapstrake centerboard sloop is so popular is that it's a great family daysailer and fun racing boat. It's also beautifully built, if we do say so ourselves. (We make it in fiberglass, too.)

Fleet-O-Wing This graceful 18' knockabout was designed for us by Sparkman & Stephens in the 1930's. As sturdy as they come, she also enjoys a good run, and is roomy enough for 6 to picnic in.

Swampscott Dory Our 17' version of this classic has more beam and one more plank per side. She's very similar to those Coast Guard surf boats, and is available in sail or rowing rig. A splendid boat.

Public Still Gathers At Central Park

Historically speaking, people have gathered on the green of Central Park for many years and for many different reasons. In recent years, families comprised of both young and old, have gathered each Monday and Wednesday evening during the summer months for the Department of Community Services Family Movie Program and Summer Concert Series. The programs are offered free to encourage a friendly exchange between neighbors.

The movie program has been a wonderful setting for young families to meet one another. Children play together, parents exchange stories, parenting tips and the like while passing out bug spray, homemade popcorn and blankets. This year's schedule includes: "Ghostbusters," "The Neverending Story," "Baby," "The Secret of the Lost Legend," "Gremlins" and more. The program begins Monday, June 23.

The concert series offers something for everyone, from bluegrass to big band era, jazz to concert orchestra and rock. Families and friends gather for a picnic supper, teens play frisbee while children climb the memorial cannon at the corner of Chestnut and Bartlet Streets. People emerge from their cars to set up lawn chairs and front porches fill up. The carefully tended trees serve as a welcome host from the occasional fair weather clouds that pass overhead. The newly renovated bandstand makes this New England scene picture perfect. The concert series will begin June 25.

Well supported over the years, the attendance has remained constant with many good to excellent reviews being reported to the Department of Community Services on program content. If you haven't gotten to Central Park in the past, plan a visit this summer to enjoy this beautiful park that offers a wide selection of wholesome family entertainment.

Arthritis literally means "joint inflammation."

Bus Trip Includes Lots Of Walking

The Department of Community Services is offering a Shopping Spree bus trip to Freeport, Maine, on Saturday, May 17. What better way is there to get some fresh air and exercise while visiting one of New England's most charming towns.

From the first name in the great outdoors to the last word in fashion and from the bustle of Main Street to the salty quiet of the wharves, some of the best things in life are in Freeport.

The prettiest things (folk art, galleries and early American homes); the warmest things (knits and woolens and hot blueberry anything); the most down-home things (baked bean suppers and L.L. Bean); the most upscale things (stylish housewares and international fashion); the most edible things (lobsters and steamers and fresh native corn); the most incredible things (the oceanfront grandeur of Wolf Neck State Park); the biggest names; smallest, most charming shops and always, the very best finds; all there in Freeport.

Explore more than 50 outlet stores and all within walking distance. The bus will leave from the rear of the Town Offices Building at 8 a.m. and return at 6 p.m. It will stop on Main Street. Register at the DCS office on Bartlet Street from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

An Ideal Picnic Spot

Enjoy the 40 woodland acres at Rec Park. An ideal area for picnicking and summer nature walks, Rec Park is located off of Abbot Street and is open seven days a week until 10 p.m.

An acre of land was initially the area a yoke of oxen could plow in a day and, therefore, differed in size from one locality to another.
